

Ye Autumn Gossip
By A. B. C.

REMEMBER THE story OF THE two little boys? ONE HAD an apple AND THE other hadn't. AND HE who hadn't said: "WILL YOU give me THE CORE?" AND HE who had it said: "THERE AIN'T goin' TO BE no core!" WELL, HERE'S what I AM driving at—I WAS in at D. J. KAUFMAN'S (ON THE Avenue), AND THEY were busy, AS EVER a store could be, AND I asked: "WHEN'S THE quiet season?" AND EVERYONE shouted: "THERE AIN'T goin' to BE NO quiet season!" AND I "ducked."

I THANK YOU

"Good Morning, Judge"
Human Interest Stories of Police Court Happenings. By RUDOLPH PERKINS

Camouflage.
It was midnight in Mayors Alley just a week ago last night. It was a dark and cloudy night. In a little front room a woman paced its narrow confines furtively glancing at the clock, then at an empty market basket and then at a "dummy" of herself skillfully placed in the bed. She was mad as a wet hen. Rightly so. Silence. The title in the clock ticked off another doleful hour. The lamp was dimmed.

S-s-s! Down the alley sneaked, or rather staggered, the villain. He was picked. He tiptoed up to the window, saw his "wife" in the bed, took a long breath, and stealthily made for the front door. As he turned the knob he knew no more. Thirty minutes later his wife said, "Set up here on take his medicine, you had aint you?" Bill Jackson felt around, picked up a few fragments of a brick and lapsed again into unconsciousness. At 8 o'clock he did a marathon to the courthouse for the hurt he had been foisted by a woman, and the court fined that woman $10. Prolet.

Bob Saunders Plays Mosaic.
We thought Bob played a guitar. He only has the upper half of each leg and walks around on his knees. Going from his room to his mother's room to collect enough cash to pay his board bill. He was going his rounds Friday night and it seemed that there was a bad night no one in the saloons had any fun for music.

He walked, or rather half walked, out on Ninth street and soon had a crowd around him listening to a plantation melody. A cop strode up and told him to move. "Ah yes, like h—," replied Bob, "you cops don't know much when you see it." The cop walked through the crowd and got Bob by the nape and sent him to No. 1 of the wagon. Judge Pugh was averse to discouraging talent and on Bob's promise to let the crowd alone on the sidewalk, released him on personal bonds.

Tipe, Tipe, Woof.
Jessie Hill has two dogs. And she is as deaf as a door nail. Just at a time when everybody is getting to sleep those dogs howl and make life miserable. Folks complained to Jessie but what's the use. Jessie couldn't hear the dogs bark and she couldn't hear the neighbors even after some of them got house talking in her ear. Several days ago she promised Judge Pugh to get rid of the dogs, but couldn't on second thought that she couldn't live without them. No matter if other folks couldn't live around them.

Back in court came Jessie. Prosecutor Hart "whispered" in her ear and told her that unless she got rid of the brutes she would have to pay a heavy fine. "Oh I'll pay the fine, I can't live without my dogs," moaned Jessie. She hasn't been fined yet, but wait until Judge Pugh has the same complaint again.

Soused, by Gum.
Luke Carter came stumbling down the alley, walking on his own feet and threatening every minute to make a dent in the pavement with his 200 pounds. A cop watched him closely and walked a yard behind him. Luke noticed this and turned on the cop. "Why do you follow me? think I steal something?" The cop said nothing. This was Luke's cue to go on in the house and close the door. He wasn't smart enough for that.

DISTRICT MAN HEADS SONS OF VETERANS
Frederick T. F. Johnson Wins Signal Honor at Encampment.

Frederick T. F. Johnson, of this city, was elected Commander-in-Chief of the Sons of Veterans, U. S. A., at the Thirty-sixth Annual Encampment held in Boston, Mass., August 13-25, at the same time the Grand Army of the Republic Encampment was held, by a unanimous vote.

Commander-in-Chief Johnson, who is a well known patent attorney of this city, became a member of the Sons of Veterans' Order in 1885, deriving his right to membership through the services of his father, Thomas S. J. Johnson, of the First Regiment, Maryland Volunteers, who served throughout the civil war.

Ever since he became identified with the organization, he has been active in his camp and the Maryland Division, and in fact, in all matters pertaining to the welfare and advancement of the sons of Veterans.

He was elected Commander of the Maryland division in 1907; has served as Judge Advocate General and as National Counselor of the Commandery-in-Chief; and is a member and a past commander of Lincoln Camp, No. 11, of this city. Served as personal aide to Past Commander-in-Chief Edgar Allan, Jr. He has attended nearly all of the Encampments of the Commandery-in-Chief, on each occasion being selected as a member of one of the important committees. He is well and favorably known to the membership of that organization throughout the country for his ability, interest and service in behalf of the Order, covering a period of active work of twenty-eight years.

Commander-in-Chief Johnson has appointed Edward K. DePuy, a member of Lincoln Camp, No. 11, of this city,

Girls in Bib and Tucker Replace Boys As Dispensers of Drinks from Soda Water Fountains of the District

Pretty girls, neat in bib and tucker, are soon to take the places of red-headed and gawky youths of the sterner sex as dispensers of soda water and other liquid refreshments in Washington.

Half a dozen establishments in Washington have already made the change, which will undoubtedly make them so popular with the male contingent that all others will follow the example.

An unprecedented shortage of soda "jerkers" of the male variety, has caused the proprietors of such establishments to insert advertisements for girls to act as dispensers at soda water and refreshment stands.

The ease with which an experienced boy attendant at such places can get employment has made them exceedingly "cocky," so the proprietors have apparently with one accord, decided to dispense with male "jerkers."

Once the girls get the jobs, there will probably be no return to boys as dispensers, for the substitution of the neater, sweeter maidens who serve drinks with an alluring smile worth the price of many drinks will, undoubtedly, prove so popular with the patrons that no fountain owner will dare to return to the unattractive male attendant.

The experienced soda water boys get from $12 to $15 a week and work on the average of 11 hours a day. The beginner makes about $7 a week.

While girls may possibly be employed for slightly less than the figures mentioned above, the law says they must work not less than 8 hours a day. This last mentioned fact is probably one reason why they have not been more extensively employed as attendants in the past.

There is now an unprecedented shortage of soda "jerkers" and the experienced youth has no trouble in getting a job. Many are of draft age, and have been called to the colors. Others have volunteered for military service. Higher wages given in practically all trades have caused hundreds to forsake the calling for positions as semi-skilled carpenters.

Most anyone who can hit a ball two out of three times can set a job paying 60 cents an hour helping build the army cantonment at Admiral, Md.

as his Personal Aide, Capt. Edward H. Grove, Commander of the Maryland Division, was appointed a member of the committee on credentials.

PREDICTS INCREASE IN H. S. CADET CORPS
Prof. Wilson, of Central. Also Announces Larger Cooking Classes.

That much more interest will be taken in military work when the Central High School opens September 17, with a banner enrollment of more than 2,400 pupils was the belief expressed last night by Emory Wilson, principal of the big school.

The entrance of the United States into the great war will result in a falling off in the number of pupils who will elect German as a language this year, Mr. Wilson thinks. The majority of the old students at the High School will continue the study of the language if they have already elected it, but it is thought that new pupils will choose some other tongue.

The draft did not affect the faculty of the High School, Mr. Wilson said. Rather than being made smaller by military service, the number of teachers has actually been increased over last year. Ten new members have been added to the staff since last spring.

Fully co-operating with the Food Administration in the national program of food conservation, greater stress than ever before will be laid on the canning and preserving courses.

"It is probable that the cooking course this year will be so planned as to include a great deal of canning and preserving instruction, in order to better carry out the food conservation plan of the government Food Administration," said Mr. Wilson.

"That this will make the course more popular than ever, is the prediction made by High School teachers."

Mr. Wilson also stated that he believes the usual delay in getting started this year will be reduced to a minimum.
